

A LOCAL APPROACH TO LOSS PREVENTION

As a mutual, it is our duty to help you reduce accidents and incidents on-board. Given the extensive hazards and human involvement in shipping, it is inevitable incidents will happen. However, we believe that with the right controls in place, the consequences – and therefore, the losses – can be limited to an absolute minimum.

Our global specialist team are on hand to address Members' need for practical solutions, and to research and tackle the wider issues affecting P&I. As well as ensuring access for Members regardless of their location, our local on-the-spot Loss Prevention Executives offer a more efficient and prompt response to enquiries on operational matters, cargoes, port suitability, and regulatory issues.

Your local contact

Based in the Singapore office, Captain Anuj is a master mariner with extensive sailing and command experience on oil tankers and other vessels, Anuj has also worked as a superintendent in a technical management company. Anuj joined the UK P&I Club in 2012. Anuj is responsible for local loss prevention initiatives for Members, including crew seminars and training as well as being responsible for loss prevention publications for the office. Anuj is available to discuss claims and ship operational issues.

Anuj is available to:

- Discuss loss prevention matters and topics of current interest or concern
- Assistance with claim analysis and lessons learned
- Presentations to office staff and crew, either in-house or at organised seminars on topics of interest to the Member
- Support to the Singapore claims team on technical and operational matters

Presentations have previously covered topics such as:

- Enclosed space entry and drills
- Engine room fires and general fire safety
- Ship/shore cargo quantity disputes (dry bulk and liquid cargo)
- Navigational safety
- Safe anchoring procedures
- P&I Incidents and lessons learned (case studies on mooring accident, cargo contamination, bunker spill, ER fire and enclosed space casualty)
- Liquid cargo shortage and contamination claims
- Cargo fumigation
- General safe working practices

As well as covering these topics, Anuj is available to respond to specific requests from Members, if you would like to know more about Anuj's expertise, or to arrange for a presentation or assistance, please contact Anuj directly on: +65 63 09 96 87